

NO NEED FOR SLEEPING BAGS!

BUNK BEDS CREATE A COMFORTABLE SPACE IF YOUR CHILD IS HOSTING A SLEEPOVER WITH A FRIEND.

growing up

INSPIRATION FOR STYLISH BOY'S BEDROOM FOUND IN CALMING COLORS

COMPILED BY LAURA ADAMS STIANSEN

Interior designer Ruth Richards, of Interiors at Woodside in Short Hills, worked with the homeowners of this Mediterranean-style Saddle River residence to create a family friendly environment. To achieve this request, Richards used fabrics that would withstand “spills and wear,” she says.

Inspiration for the 5-year-old's bedroom was found from a Sherwin-Williams paint deck, says Richards, who used colors called St. Bart's and Roycroft Mist Gray, and paired it with gray Pottery Barn Kids bunk beds, a Rosenberry Rooms rug, overhead drum lighting from Seascape Lamps and a fun tent from Etsy.

“This little boy has three older siblings and he didn't want his room to be perceived by them as childish,” Richards says. “So we made the room more timeless, but included fun accents and toys to keep it appropriate for his age.” ●